

LAURA EVE ENGEL

Observation Car

Someone while a passenger on a moving train is always afraid.

A train makes a sound like I don't know what to call it when things are approximate. I lean forward in my seat and I am a lot like my leaning. You are a lot like I'd like to be telling you that staying always outside this train is something the other train is good at. We're all good at thinking the other one's moving is maybe what this train is trying to tell us we don't know if the mountains we're seeing are good at anything more than waiting by us to be seen. Your body, something I miss like a window.